

Sheriff's Deputies To Assist Miss Austin In Polio Drive

Miss Lou Ann Austin, radio dispatcher at the Glades substation, has been named to lead March of Dimes drive in the Glades area, by county chairman Mr. Ralph Blank, Jr. of West Palm Beach.

Miss Austin, who is a victim of the crippling disease, will have the assistance of local deputies in the kick-off of the March of Dimes drive in this area. The deputies will place containers in local business offices for Lou Ann.

Miss Austin was struck with Polio in October of 1952, when she was a sophomore in Belle Glade High School. After being hospitalized, she returned to school and graduated in 1955. Through her determination, she has been employed by the sheriff's office since 1959.

Miss Austin has been connected in some way with the March of Dimes drive ever since her classmate, Slim's Fish Camp, Woods had spent most of last winter at the Marina and was there several months this season.

Survivors include a daughter Mrs. Mary Fawell of Albany, N. Y. and a sister in Albany.

A veteran of World War I, the body will be sent to Washington, D. C. Saturday, Feb. 25, will be buried at 11 a. m. Monday at Arlington National Cemetery.

A lot of admiration is due the young lady, as she sets such a outstanding example for victims of other crippling diseases as to what determination she made for them.

South Bay Will Get New Traffic Light

This long awaited dream has finally become a reality for South Bay. For several years the City has been trying to get a traffic light at the intersection of U. S. 27 and State Road 80.

The city commissioners were notified Thursday by State Road Board member Chelsie J. Senerchia that a traffic light is to be erected.

After a traffic survey was conducted by the road Dept.

Herbert A. Craig, city Clerk was informed the light will cost about $4,000 to be purchased and installed by the state agency.

City Mayor, Cosby Crews and County Commissioner E. W. (Bud) Weaver, of Lake Harbor are given the credit for finally pushing this project through.

Clarence E. Davidson, district engineer, will be in charge of the installation.

'66 Auto Tags On Sale March First

Mobile Home Tags Are Complicated

Florida voters chose to have mobile homes and house trailers enjoy the privilege of a motor vehicle status and wear a license tag similar to those by auto and truck.

The issuance of motor vehicle tags has been made on a thirteen months basis, necessitating the securing of a tag a month later each year until the issuing date coincides with July 1st of each year.

Auto license tags carry over until March 1st this year, and personal property tax on mobile homes has been running until December 31st.

There is a hiatus of the tax year between the former personal property and motor vehicle year of March 1st. So, there is a two month period that must be made up under the new method of taxing mobile homes — the tag — which will cause some head scratch.

The present interpretation of the law and regulations is that if you purchase a mobile home in February 28th or any time 4 months previous 1966 you must pay a tag fee of $26.72 plus a 50¢ fee.

On March 1st you will be liable for a 1966 tag which will cost you $86.72, plus a 50¢ fee. It will then cost you $27.20, plus a tag fee for owning the mobile home for the day. That's the interpretation.

Mrs. Edwina C. Young of the Glades Tax Collector's Office in a written statement gives the rules, as follows:

"1966 automobile tags will go on sale March 1st. Inasmuch as tags are sold on a 13 month's basis, the renewal date will continue to be one month later each year until it coincides with July 1st."

However, renewal applications for reserve tags are now being taken by those who wish to reserve the

Crime At A Minimum During The Holidays

"We had a very quiet holiday," reports Chief of Police, Mr. J. R. Orsenigo, of the Glades Experiment Station, recently returned from a one-month assignment as a consultant to the Costa Rican Minister of Agriculture and the University of Costa Rica. This mission is under the University of Florida contract with USAID to Costa Rica which provides for a two-man resident staff plus a one-year technical assistant.

Dr. V. E. Green, Jr., Agro nomist at the Glades Experiment Station is one of the current resident staff who is also a consultant to the Ministry of Agriculture and the University of Agricultural Sciences.

There were a couple of B&Es of no major importance; there were several robberies on dark streets, and differences of opinion generated by the alcoholic content of beer, wine and liquor refreshments customary during the Holidays.

Senter Chairman Dinner Of State

Sam Senter, Palm Beach County and Belle Glade busines, civic and philanthropic leader, has been named chairman of the Palm Beach County-Israel Dinner of State to take place Sunday evening, January 23, at the Palm Beach Towers.

The dinner will be the occasion at which the highly coveted Israel Freedom Medal will be presented to Dr. Samuel A. Manalan well known businessman and community leader.

Mr. Senter was selected as last year's recipient of the cherished Eleanor Roosevelt-Israel Humanitarian Award in which a record sum of Israel Bonds was achieved, reflecting the high esteem of many friends and associates in making Belle Glade one of the leading cities in the United States in aiding the economic development of Israel through Israel Bonds.

In accepting the chairmanship of the 1966 Dinner of State, Mr. Senter said, "I am pleased to serve as chairman at the occasion when Dr. Manalan has been honored. Dr. Manalan has earned the esteem of our entire community for his dedicated efforts on behalf of the State of Israel Bonds, since its inception."

Mr. Senter noted that a distinguished roster of community leaders headed by Nat C. Goldman, will serve on the dinner committee to assure that of the outstanding events in the history of Palm Beach.

Mr. Senter pointed out that Palm Beach County is commemorating its seventeenth year as part of the intensified nation-wide campaign to mobilize Israel Bonds investment capital since its inception in 1951.

It is estimated that Israel Bonds have raised nearly $800,000 for the development of every facet of Israel's economy.

Mr. Senter listed the rapid construction of housing units, the industrial setting up of the Negev, and the large-scale expansion of industrial and other employment, as the three most important "economic objectives" which must be attained by the aid of Israel Bonds.

"Spurred on by the necessity to sustain a rapidly growing population which includes a substantial number of new immigrants," Mr. Senter said, "we must assist and reclaim its Redcedar desert area in the shortest time possible, so that its newcomers can be settled there and integrated into the life stream of the country." Israel Bonds are a vital element for the successful completion of this great task."

Great satisfaction must be the reward to those who fought against and voted against four-laning State Road No. 80 and US No. 27 when they read the report that five were killed and six injured on these two highways during the past few days.

Both accidents resulted from attempts to pass slower traffic in two lanes. There's no evidence that the laws of the highway were violated in either instance, except the cover-all "not having car under control."

Water System Improvements

Outlined To City Fathers

On Monday night at the regular meeting, Belle

will hear a report from engineers Russell and Axon

on particulars of construction and estimated cost of doubling the capacity of the treatment plant.

The newly installed mains

from the Lake to the treatment plant will be able to carry a volume of water from 1,400 gallons per minute to 4,400

gpm. By the addition of two more pumps, the lines' capacity may be again doubled.

The present daily capacity of fresh water to the plant will furnish enough water for some 63,000 folks, at 100 gallons per day as assumed use and a doubling of that will meet the needs of folks expected to get water from the Lake.

The Glades Experiment Station is located on the west side of the lake, and a new water plant will be built there.

Doubling the treatment capacity, storage capacity and a high tower addition will take care of water needs for sometime to come.

FOR A PROSPEROUS 1966

ECONOMIC PROSPECTS—1966

The gross output of the American economy will be $672 billion in 1965—about $43 billion higher than 1964.

The National Association of Manufacturers' report on economic prospects for next year states that "comparable growth is attainable in 1966, which would raise the gross national product for the year to close at $715 billion."

The NAM report points out that we have emerged from an "under utilized" economy to a "fully utilized" economy.

Our national policies must be oriented to assure the accumulation of capital and know-how necessary to make added manpower more productive at a steadily accelerated pace, the report asserted. To insure non-inflationary economic growth for 1966 and beyond we should:

- Make sure that the federal government refrains from attempts to replace the marketplace as the instrument for controlling prices and wages.
- Remove some of the special privileges and exemptions which by law have been conferred on labor unions.
- Use future opportunities or tax reduction in ways which free funds for additional saving rather than for additional consumption.
- Allow interest rates to find their own level, given a national policy which permits the supply of money and credit to grow only in proportion to the growth in the economy.

The program for growth will effectively serve both our national and international interest, the report concluded.

Uncle Dan From Doolie Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was advocating the overthrow of the U. S. Government by peaceful means. What they was doing was coming out agin taxes in all shapes and forms.

They would claim they wasn't nothing invented by man that had took on as many shapes and forms as Government taxes, special since the Democrats got their feet riveted in the public trough back under Franklin Roosevelt. And they was the only thing under God's heaven that wasn't taxed today was a man's liberty and he was expecting any day now to see them Revenue boys in Washington try to make the nation overhauled so they could put the stopper in this loophole.

What bring up this subject, Mister Editor, was all the fellers was gitting set to file their income taxes by February 15. On account of the cold and rainy, being a little dumb, the Government makes 'em send in their chicken scratching two months ahead of everybody else. Ed says this is an account of it takes two months for the boy to get the wind, decipher and digest what they git from the rural folks.

Personal, I ain't agreed with Ed 100 per cent in this last matter. For instant, I keep my records wrote on the hen house door. I think it's more non-inflationary correct for me to annual report to the Great White Father in Washington. Once, back during the war, my hen house got burn down and I had to git my report up from memory. And in all my born days that was the only year I ever come out even with them tax fellers. And if you come up a bit on taxes it looks like the hen house is going to have another fire.

Zeke Grubbs made the most alluring remark of the session. He allowed that he'd be fer taxin' in "thee" and again in "practice." Zeke probably picked that one up from some politician making a stump speech and was passing it off on the fellers in deep secret. If you know, Mister Editor, what it means, please drop me a note. It makes me recollect the time I heard a candidate for Congress say on television if he was elected he'd work for a Federal minimum law and a Federal maximum law. I ain't figured that one out yet. The distance a feller has to go to git swallowed up in Government double talk is gitting shorter every day.

It used to be the first season of the New Year at the country store was took up with making New Year's resolutions. But them was the days when a feller didn't have no income tax and was hopes for the future.

Well, Mister Editor, I got to stop now and go check my hen house door.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

GRASSROOTS OPINION

ENID, OKLA., NEWS: "There is a lot of talk about air pollution, but you ain't seen nothing yet till the 1966 political campaign starts."

BARNESBORO, PA., STAR: "Our great nation was built on the principles of free enterprise and that a government which governs the least is the best government. These two great heritages are rapidly vanishing from the American scene. There is very little free enterprise today amid overwhelming government oppression."

HUNTINGTON, IND., HERALD-PRESS: "In effect today is one-man price control. It has not been established by Act of Congress. It is not practiced as a war measure. Whatever else it is, it is a spectacular exercise of the vast power of the White House. It is iron-fisted notice that industry in the United States is the pawn of the government of the United States."

REALLY A BARGAIN

Rising prices bedevil great numbers of American families. Inflation has cut deeply into the dollar's purchasing power and continues to cut. Yet, there are essentials that all of us buy which can be regarded as bargains today. And one of them is food.

A publication of an eastern food chain system* tells the story. In 1912, the average family had an income of $11 a week and spent 40 percent of it for food. Today, that average income exceeds $125 and only $25 of it goes for food—and it is more and better food.

Comparisons with other countries are revealing too. The American worker's food bill runs to about 19 per cent of his earnings. In England, the figure is 29 per cent; in France 31 per cent; in Italy 40 per cent—and in Russia, a staggering 53 per cent!

The productive power and efficiency of the American farmer must be given much of the credit for this. But other factors play a major role as well. That is the case with American retailing. Working on the mass distribution principle, typical retailers operate at a profit that is almost unbelievably low. The chain store publication points out that the average family spends $1.70 a year for its food—and the average retail profit on that sum is just $15. Yes—food is really a bargain.

FARM FRONT

By Doyle Conner, Commissioner

We've all got our personal New Year's resolutions to make, and I won't bore you with mine. But I'd like to suggest a few that others might try on for size:

For A Better Understanding . . .

Florida's farmers should resolve to make 1966 their year of greatest strides in product improvement in order to earn greater consumer acceptance.

Our state's citizens, particularly those living in urban areas, should learn to appreciate the state they share mutually with farmers, in farmers' success.

For A More Equitable Tax Climate . . .

Urban citizens should study the long-range effects which would be felt if farmland were taxed into oblivion—and should share their new understanding of the situation with their county assessors.

And Florida farmers should resolve to avoid land speculation themselves, so that they can continue to deserve special consideration for their farmland.

For A More Favorable Labor Situation . . .

Florida farmers should do everything possible during 1966 to discover new means—mechanical and otherwise—to harvest their crops, so that they might become less dependent upon the disastrous, labor policy-making whims of Washington.

And Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz should resolve to give our farmers more time to make the inevitable transition from migrant-harvested crops to domestically and/or mechanically harvested crops.

For Improved Marketing . . .

Florida farmers should make anticipated supply needs a more heavily weighted factor in their planning for a new crop.

They should develop a keener awareness of the specific product needs of the nation's wholesalers and retailers.

And they should resolve never to become so satisfied with existing outlets that they cease looking for new marketing possibilities, foreign as well as domestic.

On the other hand, the national food trade should resolve to communicate more clearly and effectively their specific needs to our producers.

And the food trade should, as these needs are satisfied, recognize the good efforts with greater patronage.

Bone Mizell

The Cowboy Humorist

By Lawrence E. Will

A while back I was a telling y'all about Bone Mizell the Cracker cowboy, humorist, who herded cattle in the days of the open range. The spring cow hunts (when some folks are round up) used to take several weeks. On one cow hunt the rangers taken turns at cooking for the crew, a week to each man. But it was decided, by grannies, that in turn the cook should complain about the cooking, then he'd have to cook the rations himself. Cook the rations himself.

In the days of open range, to be shore, different men's cows would run together, but during the cow hunt the rangers would mark and brand each calf with its rightful owner's marks. Leasways, that's the way hit were supposed to be treated, but the rangers hit them with a branding iron.

Now, Mizell, as I've heard tell, was always strictly honest in all his business dealings, and he'd never close a deal nor sign a check if he happened to be drunk. Yet strange to relate, when he was drunk, he'd hit twice each year in Arcadia, hit were a plumb rare occurrence if'n Bone Mizell's name wasn't on the docket, others, who'd been doing as accused of cattle rustling, much of it as anybody else. After Bone had begun to "Hod damn! This here meal's salty as hell," he yelled, then quickly added, "But hit shore tastes good to me. I always did like my victuals with plenty of salt!"

"You're mighty right just go. I am as back do I've done worked for some of these very same men who have testified again me."

"You're mighty right just go. I am as back do I've done worked for some of these very same men who have testified again me."

"Dressed in the finest that Arcadia could furnish, Bone was escorted to the depot and given a big send off as the train pulled out. At Fort Myers, Bone was to be informed of the prison, where he was duly entered and recorded. Then he was conducted on an inspection tour of all the grounds and buildings. The event, as a big business, impressed all Bone's friends, and with the warden and all the officials present, Bone was called on to make a speech. Now, Bone hadn't never laid eyes on a prison before in his borned day, so he didn't tell them any lies."

"Gentlemen," he declared, "I've done looked over your layout here, inside and out and all around. I'm not lying when I say I'm a compacted down fact. I ain't never seen no better prison nowhere than this one y'all got here. And not only that, I'm here to tell the damn gummint that that is the fact. I'm here to be smatty fine men. I ain't never been treated no better in all my life, and I can't find any a bit of fault with the management. You seem to have a right fine program over here, and I'd be right glad to tell all the folks that fact, whenever I get back home."

The judge then allowed over how he'd study things over before he pronounced
